The 5th year of a new Capsa story is now available to Capsa players. Take a look at the new features offered by Capsa - Year 4 Pass: Apart from extra clothing items, players will be able to get a new set of inventions as an additional bonus! Inventories are a set of items that your characters will have at their disposal at the beginning of each turn. These inventories include a wide variety of items that your characters will need to survive in all Capsa environments. *Please note that these items will need to be claimed from Capsa's inventory for them to become available to your characters.

Claiming items: As characters level up, they will have the ability to 'claim' a number of items from Capsa's inventory. More items will be added as your characters level up, and the total inventory number is not fixed! Also, the number of items that will be available for claiming changes depending on what kinds of belongings you choose to equip your characters with. In order to claim items, you must open your characters' inventories and click on the 'Claim' button on the character name menu.

You can see what the character will receive when they become level 1 at the moment of their creation, but you won't be able to see what they will get from the moment they complete a stage until they 'claim' it by interacting with the items available for claiming. In terms of additional bonuses, we've added 2 new items as well as 1 additional character hat: Renewal: An item that restores the effects of your 'durable' machines used for making progress D'Ora D'Ora: A parachute that reduces the distance that your characters will fall when they jump from a height Balloon: A parachute that increases the maximum number of characters that can be seated in the balloon. 3D

Tour: First thing we've added is 3D Tour, an AI-controlled balloon that moves across Capsa's environments! *3D Tour is added to the game, but it can only be used when playing in 3D mode. Locations of 3D Tour Balloons: We've added 3 locations where 3D Tour balloons can be found. By

What's new in PCMark 10:

Cleaning The post-holidays let-up is upon us, and that means it's time to start thinking about how to get that garage packed or attic cleaned up. Homeowners and business owners often find their surroundings in need of a little TLC, with high-traffic areas and rooms where kids have set up video arcades and entertainment centers getting hit the hardest. These areas can contain a lot of clutter and dust, so it's important that you take steps toward cleaning up as soon as possible. Vacuuming the garage, office and other high traffic spaces in your home or business is important because it can often contain mold that may be compromising your health. As for the kids' rooms, the following tips are helpful if you'd like to combat future moths and white ants: Empty all of your fireplace ashes onto a separate, outdoor area. Clean any old mousetraps. Toss old out-of-season clothing Repair any broken or malfunctioning appliances Keep closets and storage spaces free of clutter Have the best garage/shop cleanup checklist The garage and utility space in the garage is often where homeowners put the most clutter. They also don't typically have the most oversight, meaning it can get full of the messiest items, such as broken/deteriorating power tools and old carpet. You have to monitor the garage clutter frequently and do your best to keep it at manageable heights, because the last thing you want to find when you get started to clean is a twisted or overweight power tool. There are a number of ways to end up with a garage that's filled to the brim, though. The way you deal with the clutter depends on how messy it is and how many items you have there. If you notice that your garage is full of way more stuff than it needs, and nothing seems like it's actually going to get cleaned up, it might be a good idea to run over and take a look. There's a tendency for all of us to ignore the clutter that's in our garage because it doesn't seem like it's cleaning anything up — it's a pile of trash waiting to happen. Your local building-management company typically should have a list of documented methods for assessing a garage. Keep all of your records there and don't pay for any sort
